High touch. Low cost. Simple.

Great business relationships are built and maintained by people. Technology should be used as an enabling tool and not be relied upon to replace key business relationships. ADX operates on the principle that technology alone cannot solve business process challenges. Our high touch approach is to offer the best person-to-person support of our customers helping them streamline and automate the redundant efforts required to conduct commerce at low cost with trading partners.

Electronically connecting with customers and suppliers requires outstanding professional services. ADX continuously invests in the people and technology to provide you with the world class systems you need to stay on top of your business needs. Because we offer services through a subscription fee, there is never any software to buy. You buy only what you need. Nothing more. Simple.

Business Integration Services

ADX Business Integration Services are outsourced professional solutions that help you build and manage electronic trading relationships with your customers and suppliers. It's all the things we do to help you move away from exchanging paper to connecting electronically - from something as simple as Outsourced EDI to building a sophisticated electronic trading community.

ADX professionals define document specifications, design templates, build data maps, determine data normalization criteria, establish the physical connections for data transportation, and manage the ongoing translation of supply chain documents from the multiple formats used by you and your trading partners. This allows you to spend more quality time with your customers and focus on your core business, not the technology needed to run it.

ADX streamlines the critical commerce processes with your trading partners providing you more accurate and timely information. Accurate transaction data delivered rapidly to your finance, ERP and supply chain applications improves the investment return of these back office systems, and improves business performance - for you and your trading partners.

Commerce Management Services

ADX Commerce Management Services manages the commerce processes between you and your customers and suppliers.

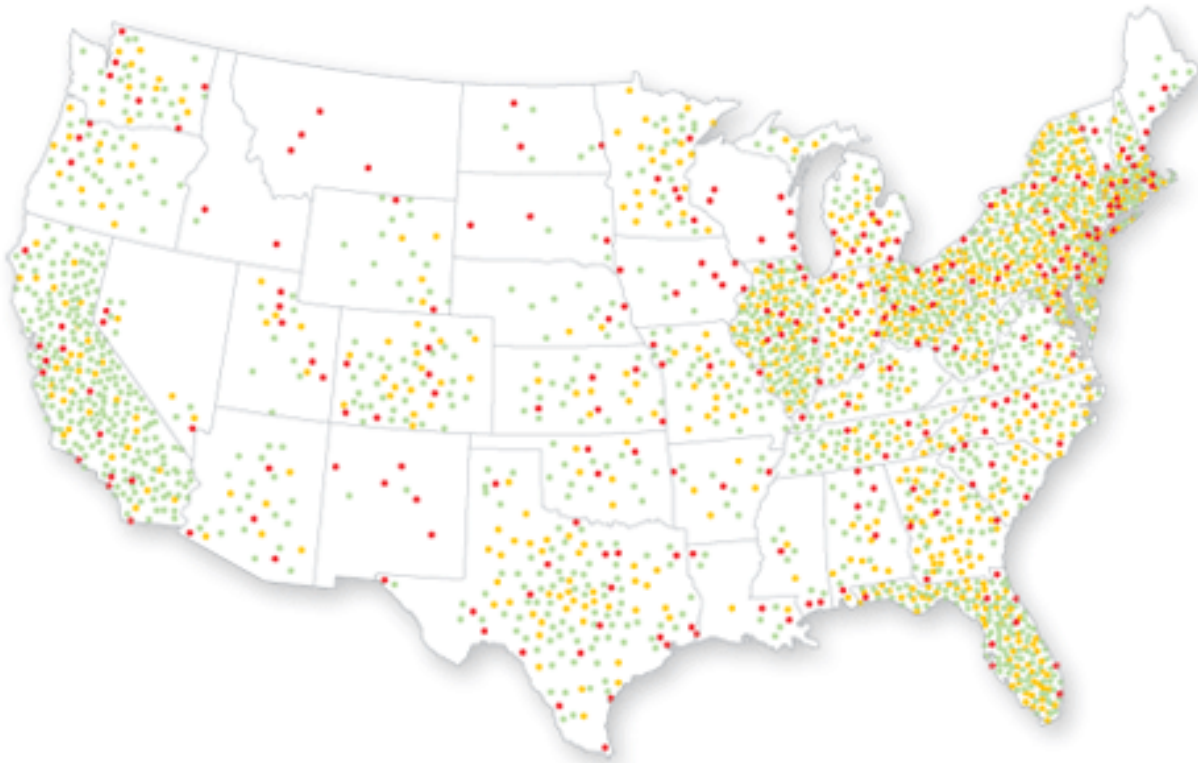

Commerce Management Services range from Order Management and Invoice Presentment (helping suppliers manage sales orders and outbound invoices, and helping buyers manage outbound POs and inbound invoices) to more sophisticated services that streamline document management, enable resolution management for rapid problem solving and payment management to better control disbursements and receivables.

ADX Commerce Management Services are offered through three solution platforms. ADX WebAccess enables suppliers to receive and send trading partner documents from any PC with an Internet connection. ADX Desktop enables suppliers with comprehensive integration to their back office systems. CommerceView is a complete outsourced commerce management system, for buyers and suppliers, that provides tools to efficiently manage buyer-supplier relationships.

ADX Commerce Management Services help you manage your orders, manage your invoices, solve problems when they occur, and get better results from all of your business relationships.
